Dear Sirs,

Allow me to remind you of the oath by which you promised to treat every patient with the hope of healing him or soothing his pain. You well know that the unborn child is also one of your patient who needs to be protected and be given the right of life.

Will you allow a woman who comes to you wanting either an abortion or contraceptive pills, in order to end her pregnancy, to kill? This would be against the oath you promise not to treat any human being in a way that might cause death.
Please, doctors, we urgently plead for the right of all practitioners to treat their patients according to their conscience & God's law rather than to follow the law of the College of Physicians, if their decision would go against their faith.

Thank you for your consideration.

Yours sincerely,

Pro-Life
