Dear Dr.

I would like to ask you to uphold your promise in your medical profession to do no harm. This means passionate care, but not killing your patients. Now that the Supreme Court of Canada took the liberty to unleash on our Country a culture of death, you must also uphold the rights of individuals to refuse for conscience sake to participate herein. Further, I like to stress that if your organization cave in to these demands of assisted suicide my trust in the medical profession will go through the drain.

Thank you for your attention.
