College of Physicians Ont.

It is unbelievable that your association would propose to impose on the doctors of this province the requirement that those, with a belief in the sanctity of life, must, even if their conscience objects to ending life, refer the patient to another doctor, thereby participating in this act.

What happened to those doctors who took The Hippocratic Oath?